Royal borough schools in top third nationally

by Dick Townsend-Smith

TOP MARKS: Council Leader Denise Hyland and Cabinet Member for Children's Services John Fahy meet GCSE students at St Ursula's Convent School. The school's results have helped make it one of the highest performing schools in the country.

SECONDARY school pupils in the borough are once again achieving impressive results in their GCSEs and A-levels.

Figures just released show that Royal Greenwich schools are in the top third of 151 local authorities in England for GCSEs, and well above the national average. Performance at Key Stage 5 for A-levels and other post-16 exams has also improved.

The news comes hard on the heels of the announcement that nine primary schools have each won £1,000 for the way in which they help disadvantaged pupils in Royal Greenwich achieve their best, under a government scheme called the Pupil Premium Awards. These are designed to name and reward schools that have made, or continue to make, impressive improvements.

Cllr John Fahy, the council's deputy leader and cabinet member for children's services, said: "This is the second piece of good news in as many weeks. It was really heartening to see that we are able to do so much for disadvantaged pupils. And now the national figures for GCSEs and A-levels confirm that we are getting it right in Royal Greenwich."

"This is down to all-round hard work by pupils, teachers and parents, and demonstrates the big emphasis we all put on raising education standards."

The borough is 6.2 per cent above the English national average for GCSE pupils gaining five or more A* to C grades in subjects that include maths and English.

Disadvantaged pupils who attract pupil premium funding do much better in the borough than the national average.

Holocaust remembered

THANKS to everyone involved for the poignant Holocaust Memorial Day ceremony held yesterday at the Town Hall, on the particularly important 70th Anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz and the 20th anniversary of the Srebrenica genocide in Bosnia. Thanks in particular to the children of Charlton Manor for their excellent readings and pictures and to the children of Mulgrave for their beautiful singing, which was truly uplifting. It is vital to involve the younger generation to keep these memories alive and to give a ray of hope for the future.

One gripe - At times, the noise in the Town Hall was really intrusive. In particular, people moving around up in the gallery made a lot of noise - walking heavily, at one point dropping some equipment with a great clatter. Surely staff and members of the public using the building should be asked to make as little noise as possible while such an important event takes place? Better still, maybe council staff could be given time off to attend.

GREG CULLEN: 'The Greenwich Emirates Airline Cable Car is quite a spectacle at night'

● Thank you for your letter. It is always incredibly important to fittingly mark Holocaust Memorial Day and this year's event was a poignant experience for all who attended. We would like to echo your words by extending our thanks to Mulgrave Primary School and all who attended and contributed to the memorial service. With regards to your second point, we apologise for any accidental noise heard during the event - any noise created was inadvertently caused as a result of the town hall being a place where staff are continually working. Lastly, all Council staff are invited to attend Holocaust Memorial Day as part of the working day.

Cycle path

IT'S all very well urging residents to vote for so-called improvements to make the Thamesmead stretch of the riverside path a 'bustling' walking route (Greenwich Time 27th January), but what's happening about the long gap in the Path further upstream? At present, walkers, cyclists, wheelchair users and people with buggies heading from Charlton to Woolwich or vice versa are forced inland between the View Cafe at the Barrier. It's a distance of only a few hundred yards along the river, but its inaccessibility forces a detour of about a mile into the fumes of the busy Woolwich Road. When can we expect this section to be completed?

M. Ruthven, Charlton

● A council spokesperson said: "The council is committed to creating a continuous, high quality walking and cycling route along the whole length of the Thames Path in the royal borough. The recent opening of the swing bridge across Deptford Creek was a major step forward. We're pleased to say the council has now successfully secured funding to complete the 'Missing Link' section in Charlton. We are now progressing these plans; it's early days but we anticipate works will start in late autumn of this year."

Keeping their memory alive

The royal borough remembers Holocaust victims

MOVING TRIBUTE: pupils from Charlton Manor and Mulgrave primary schools are joined by I-r Dolly Boldeo from Greenwich Hindu Temple; the mayor Mick Hayes and the mayoress Gillian; Gerald Rose, warden of Catford and Bromley synagogue; the Rev Mike Leader and Saeed Ahmad from Greenwich Islamic Centre, inset, Mulgrave pupils perform a musical tribute

FAITH and community leaders, schoolchildren, armed services representatives, council staff and members of the public stood together in silence at Woolwich Town Hall last Tuesday morning (January 27) to mark Holocaust Memorial Day.

Children from Charlton Manor Primary School read out the stories they had written about genocide, and children from Mulgrave Primary in Woolwich sang two songs – 'World In Union' and 'Can You Hear My Voice?'. The event was hosted by Cllr Mick Hayes, the Mayor of Royal Greenwich, with prayers and stories led by the Reverend Mike Leader borough Dean and Gerald Rose, from Catford and Bromley synagogue who lit candles alongside the children and faith leaders.

The theme for this year's commemoration was 'Keep the Memory Alive'. This year marks the 70th anniversary of the liberation of the notorious Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp, and the 20th anniversary of the Srebrenica genocide in Bosnia.

Sign up to have your election say on voter registration day

FEBRUARY 5 is National Voter Registration Day (NVRD) and residents across the royal borough are encouraged to get inspired to vote in the general election in May.

NVRD has been created by Bite the Ballot, a campaign group aiming to get more young people to register to vote.

NVRD was set up in 2014 and has already made a big difference registering 50,000 people to vote. This year the target is 250,00 and there is information and resources available aimed at inspiring discussions about voting, demystifying the registration process and emphasising the enormous power young people have.

There is a host of celebrities behind the campaign, including SB.TV's Jamal Edwards, rapper Tinie Tempah, singer Eliza Doolittle and 'Soccer AM' presenter Max Rushden.

The council is also helping residents get registered to vote this spring and

by Dan Stephens

is writing to all residents next month with important information about the registration process. Additionally unregistered voters will also be contacted and given details about how to register and have their say.

Residents who haven't registered before, which is likely to include many people who have moved home in the previous year, need to complete the process in order to vote. The deadline for registration to vote in the General Election is April 20 – however residents are encouraged to apply to become registered well before this to ensure their registration is processed in time for them to vote.

● Visit www.nvrd.co.uk for further information about NVRD and to register to vote.

A hub for landlords

Private property owners get expert advice

by Dick Townsend-Smith

A RECORD turnout of more than 80 private landlords attended the latest Landlord Business Club hosted by the council.

The theme of the meeting at the Old Royal Naval College included how to avoid problems with tenants that could lead to a dispute.

A representative from the National Landlords Association gave tips on dealing with difficult landlord-tenant situations, such as noise or maintenance issues. Then officers from the council's environmental health team spoke about regulations affecting the private rented sector.

There was also information about tax planning for landlords and business enterprise.

The event was voted a winner by newcomer Ged McDonald from Charlton, who has just retired from the Fire Brigade after 30 years. He said: "I went to the meeting after seeing it advertised in Greenwich Time, because I am thinking of becoming a landlord. I am looking to buy a two-bedroom flat to let, and it's something I've never thought of doing before."

"The bit of the talk I liked best was hearing about dealing with difficult tenants, and the financial support that is available to people. I would be interested in the council's scheme where they give you help and support with finding tenants. The council is offering a good service to people like me, who want to buy to let."

The council offer a range of support private landlords including grants and its HACTRAC scheme, which helps families find private rented accommodation to stop them becoming homeless.

It allows people to move into private rented accommodation without having to pay a deposit. The council offers landlords a deposit guarantee bond against any damage caused during the tenancy and any rent arrears.

Meanwhile, the council has been clamping down on 'rogue landlords' who

NETWORKING OPPORTUNITY: NLA rep Richard Blanco who spoke to landlords at last month's business club meeting, inset, the council's rogue landlord campaign run unregulated or illegal hostels, or properties which are poorly managed or in bad condition.

Cllr Chris Kirby, the royal borough's cabinet member for housing told GT: "I'm proud that our recent event, the Landlord Business Club has proved so popular, attracting a record number of attendees. There was a wide range of topics discussed and the information and advice on offer will hopefully prove very useful to the landlords and prospective landlords that attended. The royal borough is committed to providing support for both landlords and prospective tenants through the HACTRAC scheme and will also take action against 'rogue landlords' whose management of their property falls below our high standards".

Cllr Jackie Smith, the royal borough's cabinet member for community safety and environment, said: "The council offers lots of support for good landlords to help them grow their business if they act responsibly. These Landlord Business Club events are a chance for landlords to find out what help is available and to network with other landlords."

"At the same time we are taking steps to tackle a minority of rogue landlords who put their tenants at risk."

● The next Landlord Business Club meeting is in April. Anyone interested in attending should contact the HACTRAC team on 020 8921 2531 or email hactrac@royalgreenwich.gov.uk

ROYAL BOROUGH OF GREENWICH

A coming of age

by Dick Townsend-Smith

GREENWICH and Bexley Community Hospice in Abbey Wood is marking its 21st birthday year with big expansion plans and a programme of fund-raising and community events.

The main building is being extended to provide a rehabilitation gym, a community hub and a care coordination centre. It will also provide easier access into the hospice.

Also planned are hospice open days, a mini marathon for children, an open garden festival and an appeal for different types of volunteers. Needed are shop volunteers to serve customers and keep the hospice's shops neat and tidy, mini bus drivers to transport patients who cannot get to the hospice under their own steam, and volunteers for the telephone bereavement service.

Kate Heaps, the hospice's chief executive, said it had developed from a service which focused on providing care in the main hospice building to one which cares for and supports people wherever they need care. She said: "We aim to be there wherever and whenever we are needed, in people's homes, in hospital, in care homes and in the hospice itself. We want to make sure that every patient – and their family and friends – benefit from special, tailored and personal care that helps them achieve the best quality of life possible.

Bereavement service volunteers are needed for evenings and weekends. An open meeting for prospective volunteers will be held on Thursday, February 12, from noon to 1pm at the hospice on Bostall Hill. Training starts in March and all volunteers will also receive support from the counselling team.

Relying on community support

THE hospice is a registered charity that provides free specialist end-of-life care to 2,500 adults a year who live in Greenwich or Bexley. It covers an area of 40 square miles and a population of around 500,000. It does not charge for its services, and only one third of its funding comes from the NHS. This means it has to rely on the support of local people, businesses, community groups and its network of 16 shops to raise the £4million needed each year to carry out its work.

Protecting Phippenhall

THE Royal Borough of Greenwich is working with local community representatives to restore a special site of historical and ecological importance in Eltham.

Phippenhall meadow off Butterfly Lane in Eltham has a fascinating history – part of it contains an historic agricultural landscape feature known as ridge and furrow – undulations in the ground from where it was historically ploughed.

The meadow is classified as a Site of Importance for Nature Conservation and some rare plant species have previously been identified.

The council is halting the letting on part of the land to sensitively clear some bramble growth using specialist methods to protect the ridge and furrow and to help restore some rare plant species.

The council will then develop a management plan for the site to ensure any future letting arrangements will reflect and maintain the special status of the site.

WINNERS of the royal borough's annual swimming championships collected their medals at a prize-giving at the Town Hall last week (Thurs 29 Jan). The event saw around 50 young people attend all well supported by their families and friends.

Scarlett Callaghan, 12, collected four trophies for all her individual events in the borough championships - 100 metres butterfly, backstroke, freestyle and breaststroke.

For the boys 12-year-old Timothy Leberl picked up his medal for the butterfly, breaststroke and the freestyle - but had settled for 2nd in backstroke, after being beaten by Kenz Hilton.

In the 13/14 year age group Luke Brown was rewarded for a clean sweep in all his four events, while Lukas Antanavicius achieved the same in the 15/16 year old category. Alex Picksley also won all his four events in the 17 years and over group.

Tilly Evans, Alexandra Di Mascio and Brooke White each took a trophy in a hard-fought 15/16 year old girl age group. Isobel Merriman and Zahra Crane also took home trophies in the 13/14 year olds category.

Mayor of the royal borough of Greenwich, Cllr Mick Hayes and Cllr Miranda Williams, the royal borough's cabinet member for culture & creative industries both attended and were joined by Dickie Davis Chair of the Greenwich Royals Swimming Club.

Cllr Miranda Williams, the royal borough's cabinet member for culture & creative industries said: "I'd like to congratulate all the swimmers for their achievements and efforts and also give a mention to the friends and family that have worked hard to contribute to the successes that was celebrated at the presentation last week. "I am proud that as a borough we are absolutely committed to investing in swimming as part of our Olympic Legacy. I hope that everyone at the presentation keeps swimming, having fun and taking part and, who knows, maybe we will be seeing someone involved in the swimming championships standing on the medals podium in 5 years' time when the Olympics are held in Tokyo." The mayor of the royal borough, Cllr Mick Hayes told GT: "It was a wonderful event and it was great to see so many young people there, supported by their parents. The organisers did a fantastic job in putting together the evening and the Championships."

Rising above bullying

South Rise Primary School earn 'Anti-Bullying Quality Mark'

by Dan Stephens

SOUTH Rise Primary School has given bullying a beating and is now the leading school in the borough for anti-bullying after being awarded a prestigious prize.

The rare prize means that South Rise Primary School have become only the second school in the entire country to win the award for its work in preventing bullying.

The Plumstead school was awarded the Anti-Bullying Quality Mark for its success in adopting lasting anti-bullying strategies and making them part of everyday school life.

South Rise boasts the Anti-Bullying Mark, Silver Award, as it demonstrated that anti-bullying was seen throughout the school's culture and practice. The school particularly congratulated Yasmin Chana for her leadership of anti-bullying in the school, as well as her colleagues, the pupils and parents for all their hard work. The award recognises the efforts of all at the school, which now will be working hard to achieve the Gold award.

Clara Daly Deputy Headteacher said: "Well done South Rise for achieving the Anti-Bullying Quality Mark silver award.

"The ABQM-UK is a national scheme which recognises how schools successfully prevent bullying. It challenges schools to set up effective and sustainable anti-bullying strategies and make them part of everyday life within, and beyond, the school gates. South Rise is only the second school in England to achieve the Silver Award as it has successfully demonstrated that anti-bullying is embedded in its culture and practice.

"Congratulations to the entire school community, pupils, parents and governors for embracing this important way of working, safeguarding the children and ensuring best practice in managing behaviour."

Gordon Primary star in gig at O2 Arena

SCHOOL children from the Royal Borough of Greenwich were pop stars for a day as they performed songs as part of a choir at the O2 Arena last week.

Pupils at Gordon Primary School in Eltham had been learning songs and dance moves for months in preparation for the event that saw 7,000 children from the South of England all singing together with a professional conductor, David Lawrence, and a live band between Tuesday January 27 and Friday January 30.

The concert was part of the Young Voices charity initiative that gives between 4,500 and 8,500 children across the country the once in a lifetime opportunity to perform at a world famous arena with professional musicians and artists.

SURPRISE SURPRISE: characters from the popular children's book

Half term play time theatre

PANTO season is over but panto-style fun for the family returns to Greenwich Theatre for half term week, starting on Sunday, February 15.

It starts with the Islington-based Little Angel theatre company which presents Handa's Surprise - a bend of physical theatre with puppetry and live music based around the best-selling children's book. "It will be the first of three shows across the week to cater for slightly different age groups. The exciting thing about it is that the audience will join the show on stage in the round," said James Haddrell, the theatre's artistic and executive director. Handa's Surprise is followed by The Wind in the Willows, by the Immersion theatre company, and Les Petits' Captain Flinn and the Pirate Dinosaurs.

Funded by Royal Greenwich, the theatre is one of London's foremost Off-West End theatres, presenting a year round programme of drama, musicals and family theatre while supporting 20 young artist sand companies in everything from production to script development and marketing.

The Theatre is also a significant developer and programmer of theatre for children and families, and founder and co-producer of the annual Greenwich Children's Theatre Festival, part of the Royal Greenwich Festivals.

"February half term is the first school holiday of the year after Christmas, and I think the excitement of Jack and the Beanstalk - which sold 26,000 tickets, 4,000 more than last year - is still in the air. Hopefully these shows will make the most of that," James added.

Could you be a volunteer and spare some time to help a vulnerable person this winter

Age UK Bromley & Greenwich is looking for volunteers to help to provide companionship and support to older people over the winter period to help prevent unnecessary admissions to hospital and for those returning from hospital.

The role will involve visiting an older person in their home, over a period of six to twelve weeks, helping them with tasks such as shopping, collection of prescriptions, returning library books, meal preparation, accompanying them on short walks and other social outings. Volunteers will be needed at various times across daytimes, evenings and weekends to suit your availability.

Full training will be provided but volunteers will need good communication skills; an understanding and empathy with the needs of older people, particularly in respect of those who may have lost confidence or some of their mobility.

VIKING ships and helmets can be spotted at a special exhibition from Millennium Primary School next week, as Year 5 pupils at the school share what they have been earning about the Vikings. Pupils have produced Viking inspired arts, crafts and artefacts that are to be put on display at a special exhibition, which is a chance for pupils to share what they have learned with pupils from other schools and their parents. The exhibition will be open for one day only at the 'No Format' facility in Woolwich, off of Warspite Road with schools from the Royal Borough of Greenwich including Timbercroft Primary School, Eltham Church of England Primary School and St Margaret's Primary School visiting the exhibition at designated times. The Scandinavian-inspired gallery will be open to schools between 9am-3pm and then to parents between 6.30pm and 7pm. "The event is a great way for the school's pupils to share what they have learned on a larger scale, we are proud of the children's work on the project and it is a pleasure to share it to other schools and the children's parents," said Headteacher Ms Joanna Gledhill.

Notice of Public Consultation Sutcliffe Park Multisport Centre

The Royal Borough of Greenwich is working on a planning application for a new sports centre in Sutcliffe Park. As well as new indoor athletics facilities (including provision for wheelchair based training), a community café, public toilets and classrooms, the centre could include and provide for activities like indoor cricket nets, climbing, bouldering, high ropes, BMX and skateboarding. From the conversations that we have had so far, this type of offer would complement and enhance the sport facilities that we already have in the Royal Borough whilst helping more residents – particularly children and young people, to join in and get active.

Representatives of the Sports Centre Project Team will be conducting consultation events where you can raise questions and discuss the new development, at the following venues and times:

Sutcliffe Park Athletics Clubhouse
Tuesday 10th February 3pm – 8pm

Eltham Centre
Thursday 12th February 11am – 8pm

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 428

BIDDING FOR PROPERTIES

People on the Housing register are able to bid for all properties, regardless of their banding. You must be eligible for the size of property and bids will be considered in the following order:

First Band A, followed by Band B both in priority date order.
Those in Band C will then be considered in registration date order.

Please note that there will still be some properties with age restrictions so only people of this age group can apply for these.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free at either The Eltham or Woolwich Centre or a local library.

Apply in one of three ways

- Text bidding is now available and the number to use is 07786207913. For further information please see page 2, or
- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

The next edition of GreenwichHomes will be available on Wednesday 11 February at midday. Closing date for all applications for this issue is midnight on Sunday 8 February 2015.

Like for Like Moves

Council tenants housed through priority Bands A & B, are generally offered a similar type of property to that they currently occupy, of the size they require. This is because rehousing is being offered to meet safety or other needs, rather than to provide more desirable housing. Tenants, who want to move to improve the quality of their accommodation, must do so through Band C, where applicants are housed in date order.

For full details on our policies, please see the Allocations Scheme which is available on the Royal Borough's website

IMPORTANT POLICY INFORMATION FOR THOSE AWARDED PRIORITY

When a priority is awarded, you will receive one offer of accommodation.

The following rules are used to allocate properties to applicants in Bands A, B and C, to make sure the Council makes best use of housing stock to meet needs.

- Two children (whatever gender) under 10 years old can share a bedroom.
- Two children (same gender) under 16 years old can share a bedroom.

Sabrina makes Team GB bow

by Simon Banks

HARDWORK has paid off for home grown talent Sabrina Sinha, after the young runner was selected to make her debut for Team GB.

Sabrina, from Blackheath has seen her career go from strength to strength after investing a lot of time and dedication into her training, now Sabrina has reaped the rewards after making her debut for Team GB in Edinburgh on Saturday January 10, after receiving the call up in December.

"I was really inspired when I recieved my GB vest and it was an honour to represent my country against girls much older than me from the UK, the USA and Europe," said Sabrina.

The Edinburgh International Cross Country Challenge saw Team GB take on Team USA, Team Europe and a team from Scotland in a 4k course around the extremely muddy terrain of Holyrood Park in freezing conditions. Although just 15-years-old, Sabrina was eligible for the event, as she will turn 16 this year in April.

The Greenwich Starting Blocks

funded athlete showed maturity beyond her years to cross the line in 8th place, the third runner from GB to finish.

Sabrina told GT: "I would like to continue to improve in both cross country and on the track and run well at the English Nationals and UK Intercounties, but I am a year out of age so it will be tough.

"I would also like to do well at the English Schools Cross Country Championships and hopefully get my England Schools vest for the SIAB International taking place in Ireland in March.

"The track season starts at Easter and I will be concentrating on the 800m and 1500m and long term, I would like to continue to be selected as an International and make the difficult transition from junior to senior, but I take each day and each race as it comes."

Following her success for Team GB, Sabrina continued in fine form to win the SEAA Southern Cross Country Championships in Brighton for a third consecutive year. She won the under-15s title twice in 2013 and 2014 before winning the under-17 title this year.

Greenwich Power through

ANOTHER powerful performance from Greenwich Powerchair Football Club ensured the borough's side stayed at the top of the table.

The team is on the verge of another regional league tournament title after back to back wins against Swindon and Norwich in the disability football league competition.

The South London Special League charity actively works with young people with disabilities to ensure that they are given every opportunity to enjoy sports and exercise. The charity is the Royal Greenwich Mayor, Mick Hayes' chosen charity of the year and supports Greenwich Powerchair FC.

The team, consisting of captain Kyle Alexander,

Shea French-Gibbens, Emily Campbell, Archie Jones and Kieran Gibbons battled it out to stay ahead of league rivals Invicta, who are just 2 points off of the leaders.

The first game saw the team defeat Swindon 2-0 and claim an impressive 5-0 win over Norwich with Kyle Alexander scoring five of the teams seven. The team then played a cup match against Brighton and Hove Seagulls, managing another clean-sheet as the team won 3-0 with goals from Shea French-Gibbens and Archie Jones before Emily Campbell rounded off her perfect game with the teams third goal shortly after creating the second with a well worked assist.

Now's the time to climb

by Simon Banks

RESIDENTS of Thamesmead have been coming on-board in their numbers this month, as the 'Now's the Time' roadshow bus spreads the word on exercise and healthy eating.

'Now's the Time' is a community initiative in partnership with Trust Thamesmead, the Peabody Group, Gallions Housing Association, the London Borough of Bexley and the Royal Borough of Greenwich, targeting change in the lifestyle and wellbeing of residents of Thamesmead.

There is a whole host of activities on offer for residents who live or work in Thamesmead, including football, zumba, fitness classes, netball, walking, water confidence, tennis and more, all for just £1.

'Now's the Time' visited locations across Thamesmead including supermarkets, health facilities and schools, as part of a two-week long roadshow staffed by Charlton Athletic Community Trust. The roadshow gave residents a chance to find out what was on offer in their local area and get healthy lifestyle advice from professionals. There are also five family activity days on offer so parents can exercise with the whole family. This included the Manor Way Day Free Family Healthy Living Event on Saturday January 17 that included exercise taster sessions, advice services and an exclusive climbing experience at The Link centre, Thamesmead.

Cllr Miranda Williams, cabinet member for culture and creative industries, said: "The roadshow has been a great success and it is fantastic to see so many residents taking the opportunity to improve their health and wellbeing while enjoying some of the Royal Borough's excellent facilities. The project is part of the our commitment to providing sports and exercise opportunities for all residents."

● For a full list of sports and activities on offer visit www.NTTThamesmead.co.uk or call 020 8320 4488.
